ROBIN COSGROVE PRIZE

ETHICS IN FINANCE

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

The prize is aimed at young people, under the age of 35.

Candidates are invited to submit written papers that have not been previously published.

Papers (maximum of 5'000 words including annexes) could be analytical in character or proposals for practical projects. In all cases, they should meet three criteria:

- intellectual rigour;
- innovative ideas;
- clear conclusions.

Official languages are English and French.

Rules and official application form will be delivered on expression of interest, which is mandatory. Final deadline for submission of entries is February 28th, 2007 (00:00 – CET).

An international jury, comprising prominent experts in finance and ethics, will designate one or more prizewinners and allocate the sum of USD 20,000 between them.

The nominees will be informed at the latest by 1st July 2007. The prizewinners will be announced at a special ceremony to be held in 2007.

MISSION AND VISION

The Robin Cosgrove Prize promotes greater awareness among young people throughout the world of the benefits of ethics in finance.

This prize honours the vision of Robin, a bright investment banker who died at age 31. He believed passionately that a major barrier to economic development was the lack of integrity and ethical practice in banking and finance.
